Since being elected to be part of the General Assembly, what have you done to represent the student voice in the chamber and in other relevant circumstances?

Ensuring that John Glenn students feel heard is of paramount importance to me. I actively leverage my role and platform to amplify the voices of students who may still be exploring the available resources. In addition to engaging in open discussions in Dr. Clark's class, where I connected with and gathered numerous opinions on potential improvements within the college, I have taken the initiative to initiate conversations with individuals and address similar topics outside of class. My aim is to shape policies that cater to the unique requirements of Glenn students. Engaging in genuine dialogues and fostering an environment for open discourse has allowed me to gather valuable insights, equipping me to craft well-informed policies that address specific needs effectively.
